

Department of the History of Art

ART HISTORY AT WORK LECTURE SERIES

Building Sustainable Careers: Lesser-Known Paths

Brooke Devenney

*Director of Individual Giving
Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles*

Brooke Devenney, Director of Individual Giving at The Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles (MOCA), will discuss how a Master of Arts in Art History at the University of California, Riverside has benefitted her as a fundraising professional in the arts. Her presentation will focus on her experiences working at the Palm Springs Art Museum, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA), and MOCA. As a lesser-known career path for art history students, fundraising can be a very rewarding way to combine a love of art history with a sustainable career in art museums.

Thursday, April 5, 2018 at 4:30pm in ARTS 333